SEPTEMBER 2012 Volume 68, Issue 68

From the Dean

“When the sun rose, God appointed a scorching east wind, and the sun beat down on the head of Jonah so that he was faint. And he asked that he might die and said, “It is better for me to die than to live.” —Jonah 4:8

East wind. West wind. Nor’easter. Storm force. Advisory force. Each of these terms has a specific and limited meaning to the meteorologist, the air flight controller, the story-teller, and the captain of an Outer Banks ferry. One sailor may say farewell to another—“Fair winds and following seas”—with little ambiguity, but the life and lore of prevailing winds often require explanation for landlubbers like Jonah and most of us.

You need to know that a West wind comes from the west and blows toward the east. A young sailor without this knowledge might quickly find herself up against a bay jetty. The choice to jibe instead of tack can be costly, if you have misunderstood. Knowledge of the compass will be imperative: can you, for example, distinguish east from west, north from south without it? It won’t do you much good to look for a sunset to your right if you’re facing north and don’t know it.

You will also need to know how the wind direction and force relate to your surroundings. A harsh New England windstorm from the east reshapes the coastline and barrier islands, eating away at dunes otherwise dependable and essential for property owners. Heavy winds from the east in Seattle, an unusual phenomenon, might force the closing of the SR 520 Evergreen Floating Bridge. In Maine you might get in your car and drive west. But in Washington State, around Puget Sound, you’d want to stay out of your car.

Had Jonah known the שִׁירוֹקוֹ Sirocco (not to be confused with the 1970s West German sports car) was coming when it did, he might have been better prepared and thus a little less despondent. East winds in the Promised Land blow from the desert!

One might assert a certain relativity here. And yet, of course, some facts on the ground are immutable. Hurricanes bring destruction. Typhoons devastate. Floods kill. So there’s the matter of learning to work with information you have acquired. Learning to prepare. Learning the practice of your forebears. Learning the nuances of direction, power, and precedent as they relate to the wind and the peculiarities of your circumstance and geography. Your comfort, your safety, and your journey’s end will depend on it.

Unlike the sailor’s, the Christian’s end does not depend on mastery. It depends on mercy, thanks be to God! But much may still be learned about grace and its application for our lives. The work of Scripture, Tradition, and Reason in revealing God’s plan for salvation and justice must necessarily include its application to a particular generation, a particular people, and a particular individual’s life. We need to study and know this story in the same way that sailors need to study and know wind patterns

“For by grace are ye saved,” writes the author of the Book of Ephesians. It’s true. But walking in that grace, owning a full appreciation of that grace, working for the justice that flows from that grace, requires of us an informed pursuit of it. I want to recognize grace when it blesses me. I want to know what to do with grace when it fills my heart. I want to recognize grace when it hallows my soul. I want to know the joy of forgiveness when grace becomes my unexpected companion.

Mastery will not determine our end. It may, however, enable our praise.

The Very Reverend Timothy E. Kimbrough, Dean and Rector

CORNERSTONE

PASTORAL CARE

HOSPITAL ADMISSIONS

Please contact the clergy directly or Peggy Tucker in the church office at 615.255.7729 whenever you or a loved one are admitted to the hospital. The clergy would like to visit and offer prayers. The hospital admission clerk may ask specific questions about your religious preference, your denomination and your church, but they will not notify the Cathedral to let us know you are there. Governmental regulations (HIPAA) prohibit release of health information to third parties so we must rely upon you to let us know to which hospital you or a member of the parish has been admitted.

ON CALL

A member of the clergy is always on call for any emergency that may arise. Please call the church office at 615.255.7729 and a member of the clergy will be in touch with you.

ARE YOU EXPECTING A CHILD?

The birth or adoption of a child is an amazing time in the life of a family and in the life of a parish. We want to know when your family is expecting/adopting a child so that members of the clergy can reach out to you. Please contact The Reverend Canon Gene Manning at 615.255.7729 so that we can welcome your new baby into the community.

PRAYER LISTS

There are two different prayer lists at the Cathedral: the Sunday prayer list and the weekday Chapel prayer list. You may add names to one or both lists at any time if the person you wish to add has given you permission to do so. Please contact a member of the clergy or Peggy Tucker at 615.255.7729 to submit a name to the lists. Those on the Sunday prayer list are prayed for during the Prayers of the People and the names are printed in the Sunday Order of Worship. Individuals on the weekday prayer list are prayed for at the 12:15 p.m. daily Eucharist.

Unless otherwise indicated, we will pray for each person three consecutive weeks. The person placing the name on the list must contact the church office 615.255.7729, if the name should remain on the list for an additional three weeks.

JOIN THE BIBLE CHALLENGE!

Is reading the Bible cover to cover on your bucket list? Have you tried to do it, only to fall by the wayside along about Leviticus? Have you consoled yourself with the thought that you're getting a pretty good dose of Holy Scripture in your Bible study group or in the Sunday readings at church?

While no one would dispute the importance of attending church and hearing Holy Scripture read aloud, there is much to be gained from reading all the way through the Bible on your own. Understanding how the books of the Bible cohere and what God is saying to you daily through Holy Scripture can invigorate your experience of and participation in worship. Developing a lifelong habit of reading the Bible daily can inspire you to make significant changes in your life and give you strength and comfort as you face major life challenges. Most importantly, taking time every day to read and meditate on the Word of God can help you feel truly alive in Christ.

Most vibrant and growing churches have a strong commitment to teaching and reading the Bible. It is for these reasons that Christ Church Cathedral is joining with Episcopal parishes and other churches throughout the Anglican Communion in taking up the Bible Challenge, a program offered by the Center for Biblical Studies in Fort Washington, Pennsylvania.

The Center for Biblical Studies has designed a one-year reading schedule to help those who commit as individuals or as members of a church, a church school or a diocese to read the entire Bible in a year's time. To ensure participants remain engaged, each daily read includes three chapters of the Old Testament, one psalm, and one chapter of the New Testament, all read in sequence.

The Bible Challenge was endorsed at General Convention this summer and has been praised by Archbishop of Canterbury Rowan Williams and the Rev. Dr. Kenneth Kearon, secretary general of the Anglican Communion, in addition to such leading theologians as Dr. Walter Brueggemann, professor emeritus of the Columbia Theological Seminary, the Very Reverend Ian Markham, dean of the Virginia Theological Seminary, and Dr. Harry Attridge, dean of the Yale Divinity School.

Participants will have the opportunity to gather weekly for ongoing conversation and reflection on the readings. The clergy will facilitate these conversations on Wednesdays at 11:00 a.m. or Sundays at 9:45 a.m. These gatherings are not required to participate in the Bible Challenge. For more information or to register, please contact the Reverend Canon Gene Manning at gmanning@christcathedral.com or 615.255.7729. Readers of all ages are invited and encouraged to take up the Bible Challenge!

From the Dean's Summer Reading List

A Southern Boy in Blue: The Memoir of Marcus Woodcock, edited by Kenneth W. Noe, (The University of TN Press: Knoxville, 1996) Excerpt: "Sunday, February 22nd — Yes, they are waging a most terrible and bloody war which is costing our country the lives of thousands of patriots and millions of treasure that they may enslave an unfortunate race which is decreed by Heaven shall be free. But we will come victorious out of this struggle, and if our country's history is stained with the black spot of one civil war, it will be the brighter by the removal of the blacker one of slavery."

Out of My Later Years by Albert Einstein (Open Road Media: New York, New York, 1956) Excerpt: "And yet I know that, all in all, man changes but little, even though prevailing notions make him appear in a very different light at different times, and even though current trends like the present bring him unimaginable sorrow. Nothing of all that will remain but a few pitiful pages in the history books, briefly picturing to the youth of future generations the follies of its ancestors."

Seeking God by Esther de Waal with a foreword by Kathleen Norris, (The Liturgical Press: Collegeville, MN, 2001) Excerpt: "... We have a layman writing a guide for his household, his extended family of brothers with their busy shared life and all its inevitable demands: preparing food and washing up, looking after guests, maintaining buildings and property, educating children, caring for the sick, and also earning a living. His concern was to help them impose on this busy life such a structure and order (both external and interior) that they could make prayer the one essential priority, the central focus of everything else."

A Spirituality for the 21st Century by Joan Chittister (The Crossroad Publishing Co.: New York, New York, 2010) Excerpt: "To practice hospitality in our world, it may be necessary to evaluate all the laws and all the promotions and all the invitation lists of corporate and political society from the point of view of the people who never make the lists."

The Hunger Games by Suzanne Collins (The Scholastic Press: New York, New York, 2008) Excerpt: "Betrayal. That's the first thing I feel, which is ludicrous. For there to be betrayal, there would have to have been trust first. Between Peeta and me. And trust has not been part of the agreement. We're tributes. But the boy who risked a beating to give me bread, the one who steadied me in the chariot, who covered for me with the redheaded Avox girl, who insisted Haymitch know my hunting skills... was there some part of me that couldn't help trusting him?"

The Next Opportunity for Baptism is Sunday, November 4, 2012 All Saints' Sunday

Baptism will be celebrated at the 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. services on November 4, the Feast Day of All Saints'. If you or your child would like to be baptized, please contact the Reverend Canon Gene Manning, gmanning@christcathedral.org or 615.255.7729, by Monday, October 29. Baptism rehearsal will be Saturday, November 3, at 9 a.m.

THE CATHEDRAL YOUTH ACOLYTE PROGRAM Informational Meeting September 30, 2012

CALLING ALL 5TH - 6TH GRADERS! Would you like to be a part of the Sunday Liturgy at Christ Church Cathedral? Becoming an acolyte is a very meaningful way to serve your church, as it brings an insider's appreciation of the Liturgy and a sense of being responsible for what goes on in services. This is a great way to participate and volunteer on Sunday mornings, and it does not interfere with your busy school week. New acolytes train 30 minutes prior to their first service and are generally scheduled 2-3 times per 3-month rotation. An informational meeting will be held on September 30 at 9:45 a.m. in the 6th grade atrium in the Cathedral Annex Building. If you have questions or need additional information, please contact Karmine Quiggle at quigkw@bellsouth.net.

A Word from the Youth Pastor

It's been an exciting and Spirit-filled summer here at the Cathedral!

We've been on three mission trips (Amistad, Urban and St. Luke's), celebrated the start of this year's Confirmation class with a pool party and "Silly Olympics," and enjoyed a good old-fashioned "ice cream social." And all summer long, the Youth staff and I have been meeting with teens, parents and other members of the church to put together a Youth program that we're very excited about. So, as we remember the joy of the summer and get ready for the joy of the new academic year, we'd like to share with you some of what's in store.

First of all, we're taking EYC beyond the walls of the Youth Room, meeting in homes, at the movies, at coffee shops, and other fun places around the city, recognizing that the presence of God isn't limited to the church building! Our meetings will take place on Saturday evenings from 3-5 p.m.

We're also offering more opportunities for service with monthly projects like Room in the Inn and Church in the Yard, and others. Middle School students will participate in a missions retreat called "Servants in Faith and Technology," where they'll learn all about life in the developing world and how Christians are serving "the least of these" around the world.

For those who love music, we've started up a youth band called "Aslan" that will play on Sunday mornings (and beyond, we hope!). All musicians and singers are welcome to come. No audition needed!

Confirmands will experience a "new and improved" Confirmation program that gives them the opportunity to meet new people, participate more fully in the ministry of the church, and grow closer to God and each other through retreats that are both fun and inspiring.

There are many other things going on in Youth ministry this year: Cafe Cathedral, lock-ins, movie nights, another pilgrimage to Bolivia and so much more! So come on out to our "Back to Sunday School" celebration in the Youth Room on Sunday, September 9, at 9:45 a.m., to learn all about it! Parents are strongly encouraged to attend this opening session to meet our teachers, tour the classrooms, receive a calendar of Youth events and pick up information about the many opportunities for youth to be engaged this year.

We're looking forward to all that God will do among us this year, and we hope you are too!

Grace and Peace,

Chris

Sacred Space for the City SAVE THE DATE Fall Symposium

The Role of the Laity:
from New Testament Times To The Episcopal Church Today

Featuring
The Reverend Dr. Benjamin J. King

What is the role of the laity in our churches? In the Catholic Church of the Victorian era, one English Monsignor notoriously answered: "To hunt, to shoot, to entertain. These matters they understand, but to meddle with ecclesiastical matters they have no right at all." In a study prepared for the recent General Convention, a different answer was given: "The Episcopal Church has historically embraced and legitimized laity, bishops and clergy equally to take their place in the governance of the church." Dr. Benjamin J. King's lectures will examine the various roles of the laity since New Testament times so that we might better understand what the role of the laity could be today.

Dr. King is Assistant Professor of Church History and Director of the Advanced Degrees Program at The University of the South School of Theology. He studied History and Theology at Cambridge University, received a Masters in Theology from Harvard Divinity School and a Ph.D. in Theology from Durham University in the United Kingdom. A winner of the 2011 John Templeton Award for Theological Promise, Dr. King's highly acclaimed book, Newman and the Alexandrian Fathers, examines the influence of the earliest Christian theologians on the most prominent 19th Century Christian theologians.
